Subject: FMA Annual Meeting Best Paper Awards

Serving the global finance community since 1970

Dear Yuxing:

With the assistance of the Track Chairs and information provided by reviewers, I am pleased to inform you that your paper, "Teaching programming skills to finance students: How to design and teach a great course?", has been identified as a semifinalist for one of five best paper awards to be given at the 2016 FMA Annual Meeting in Las Vegas. Congratulations!

We will start the final evaluation process in mid-July. Thus, if you would like the Awards Committee to review the most current version of your paper, you have until July 13 to upload a newer version. To upload your paper, please click the "Paper Replacement Web Page" link and follow the instructions below. Your paper's PDF file name is:

PDF File Name:

FMA2016yanR.pdf

It is very important that you name your revised PDF file exactly the same as it appears above to overwrite the version of your paper currently residing on the Annual Meeting home page.

To upload your paper, simply go to the following link, enter Neon2016 as the upload password on the first screen, and follow the instructions (links to screen shots of the upload screens are below for your reference):

We have placed your paper in the Investments category, believing this to be the most appropriate category. If you would prefer another category, please let us know prior to July 13 by contacting the FMA office at orleans@coba.usf.edu. The categories are:

- Corporate Finance
- Derivatives
- Institutions and Markets
- Investments
- Market Microstructure

I greatly appreciate your submitting work of this quality for the FMA program and look forward to seeing you in Las Vegas.

Best regards,

John Graham, Vice President, 2016 FMA Annual Meeting

PS: Good luck in the competition!
